OUR CANDIDATE.

FOR PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES,

HON. JAMES G. BLAINE.

Subject to the action of the Republican National Convention.

Republican National Convention, 1876.

The next National Republican Convention for the nomination of candidates for President and Vice President will be held in the CITY OF CINCINNATI, ON WEDNESDAY, THE FOURTEENTH DAY OF JUNE, 1876, at 12 o'clock noon, and will consist of delegates from each State equal in aggregate number to its representatives in Congress and of two delegates from each organized Territory and the District of Columbia.

In calling the attention to the election of delegates, the committees of the several states are recommended to invite all the public authorities of all other citizens, without regard to past political differences, except those who have held office under the Democratic party in any of its sectional forms, and who desire to unite with the friends of equal rights and a National Government throughout the country in vindicating and maintaining the constitutional rights of every citizen, including the full and free exercise of the elective franchise, that is the foundation and security of all other rights, and in favor of such a National administration as will secure the blessings of a homogeneous, faithful and capable civil service, and in favor of making such reforms in the government as experience may show to be necessary. Persons who are opposed to impairing the credit of the country by depreciating any of its obligations, and to the payment of its obligations in coin, as the national laws and financial honor, which light it at the commencement of the century, in the mercury of America, and all who believe that the maintenance of a homogeneous government, which neither can nor should continue to be divided between those who adhere to the principles of 1776, and those who are in favor of perpetuating and strengthening the fundamental principles of the National Unity in this the centennial anniversary of the birth of the Republic.

E. D. MORGAN, Chairman.
WM. E. CHANDLER, Secretary.
Republican National Committee.

Washington, D. C., March 27, 1876.

THE CINCINNATI VOTE.

A Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune, who figures Mr. Blaine's strength as low as possible, going to others delegations which he is morally sure to have entire, makes up the following estimate of the first ballot at Cincinnati: For Blaine 256 votes, Morton 185, Hartranft 68, Bristow 75, Conkling 68, Hayes 11, leaving 81 unaccounted for. The writer tries very hard to break the force of the popular draft toward Mr. Blaine, but after cutting and clipping at his support in the freest manner he is forced to conclude "it must be admitted, however, that the prospect, as viewed from a Washington level, strongly favors Mr. Blaine."

Taking the above figures, in which Missouri, West Virginia and Florida, with their 48 votes are given to Morton, New Jersey, with its 18 votes given to Conkling and Vermont, with its 10 votes and South Carolina with its 14 votes given to Bristow, the most of which are surround, all of which are more likely to be cast for Mr. Blaine, the Tribune's estimate of 256 votes increased to 310 for our candidate on the first ballot. This lacks but 31 votes of the 377 necessary to a choice, with Pennsylvania's 58 votes and Ohio's 44 votes ready to make up the deficiency after the complimentary balloting. The Tribune concludes that "the prospects strongly favor Mr. Blaine" seem to be very well founded.

A DEMOCRATIC LEADER.

We really fear that the Boston Globe will have to administer some "Democratic" discipline to the New York Times, which speaks thus can kidly and disrespectfully of one of the most prominent of the Southern Democratic leaders:

We have, according to Mr Ben Hill, been labouring under an illusion which it now turns out to have been as to correct. We had supposed that there was a time in his life when he could fairly be called a disunionist. But he denies it. "I never, in my life," he declares, "held or uttered a disunion sentiment." His speeches in the Confederate Senate were purely in the interest of the Union. His proposition to treat every soldier of the National Army as a criminal was intended to foster love and peace between the sections. "It does seem impossible," he says, "for a Republican writer or speaker to tell the truth" about him. It is, we confess, to us. We do not know of a Republican in the United States who could tell the truth about him as he sees it. Whether it is mental or moral obliquity, the fact remains. We all keep thinking of him, when we have occasion to refer to him, as a peculiarly offensive, impudent and disingenuous rebel, and we cannot help wondering if he is any other way. It must be a shock to Mr. Hill's friends to perceive that some of his Southern friends do not regard him any more highly than his Northern critics. They do not call him a knave, however, but they unhesitatingly pronounce him a fool.

We recently copied from the Prescott Sunrise a brief statement of the facts concerning the attempts of the defendants in the Powers-Cary libel suit to secure a reopening of the suit and its refusal by the Court, whereupon a nondescript sheet printed by somebody in Houlton and styling itself the North Star, has the impudence to say

"THE BANGOR WHIG hastens to copy at length what Mr Powers' organ has to say about the Powers-Cary suit. We hope the report of Mr. Powers' once owning stock in THE WHIG does not in the least influence the re-selling of the Sunrise blister."

It is doubtless natural for a concern which we understand depends for its existence upon the contributions of a few orthodox politicians, to suppose that all newspapers are subsidized; but since there are fools who will write such stuff as the above there may be other fools who will catch at it, and for their benefit we will state that Mr. Powers never owned "stock in THE WHIG," that we have never been under the slightest obligation to him in any way whatever, beyond the ordinary courtesy of a subscriber; that he has never sought even the slightest favor at our hands; that the property of this establishment has never been vested in stock; that the names of the sole owners and proprietors are conspicuously printed in each issue, and that if any of the North Star people will raise money enough to visit Bangor, furnish credentials of respectability and show that they have any legitimate interest in our business affairs, we will very cheerfully afford all information.

We have noticed the above impertinence, not because it is worthy in itself of attention, but because similar slurs are frequently appearing in certain anti-Republican sheets which are simultaneously assuming a very eager championship of our present member of Congress. We think General Plaisted may well ask to be saved from such friends.

By accident the proper credit was omitted from the article copied by us yesterday from the Boston Advertiser, which accordingly appeared as original with this paper. A paragraph in the same issue referred to the article as quoted from the Advertiser, but the omission of the usual mark of credit induces us to explain that no appropriation was intended.

THE DEMOCRATIC SCANDAL-MAKERS.

(Washington Cor. New York Times.)

WASHINGTON, April 6. The manner of conducting most of the thirty-six or forty investigations now in progress by the House is disgraceful beyond comparison. In a general way, it is not using too strong language to say the Republicans have an equal share of the blame, because they do not look after the investigations, and leave the Democrats to run them pretty much according to their wilkedest pleasure. The conduct of the Committee on Expenditures in the Department of Justice furnishes an illustration. The Republican members do not even know what testimony has been taken, though they sometimes inquire as to the subject under consideration. Without consulting their volunteer stories to some Democratic member of the committee the testimony reveals any Democratic crookedness it never goes on record. Otherwise, the witness is called to the Committee room, and with one or two Democratic members present, besides the stenographer, he is questioned sufficiently to make the desired record, and without cross-examination to test credibility or discover motives, or for any purpose, the witness is then discharged, and that is the last of him. If there is anything very scandalous in the testimony of any witness it leaks out in a day or two in the most damaging form, and gets into the columns of a faithful organ. The Republican members should insist that no witness be examined except at the regular or duly called meetings, in the presence of a quorum of members, and one Republican should make it his duty to keep the affair in hand—not to protect Republican thieves, but to secure that respectable men are not smirched by partisan and untruthful witnesses.

THE BANGOR WHIG intimates that there is some discreditable reason for this singularly pertinacious opposition to Mr. Burleigh. It is due both to the Council and to the Province, that the reason, whatever it may be, should be made public.—Portland Advertiser.

The Advertiser states that the pretext of a discrepancy in Mr. Burleigh's accounts is disposed of by the report of the expert who has examined them, and it is evident that the opposition has some other cause. Our information is that the hostility of the Councillor who has been most active against Mr. Burleigh was developed in connection with the public land sales of last season, in which business we believe Mr. Burleigh endeavored to perform his duty faithfully and thoroughly. We agree in the opinion that the matter should be made public and we hope that Mr. Burleigh may state what he knows on the subject.

When the Democratic organs can find no other means of assailing Mr. Blaine than by manufacturing silly gossip about his wife's shopping during a visit to the Provinces, they are obviously hard pushed for material. If one of the editors would interview the family washwoman in Washington he might obtain some really startling information, for instance, how many pairs of stockings the ex-Speaker wears during a week, or some such fact of national consequence.

The report that Sam Bowles, Murat Halstead, Horace White, Carl Schurz, David A. Wells, and other members of the literary junto" that started the Greeley movement in 1872 are organizing to "control the Cincinnati Convention" or to "start another coalition with the Democrats," is rather funny. The former experiment was not so successful as to encourage repetition, and the mention of Mr Bristow's name in connection with such a cabal is not calculated to do his cause or delicacy with Republicans.

Where is Kilpatrick? A little while ago he was clamoring in the newspapers to be called to testify that somebody offered him $20,000 for an office. Now the Senate-at-Arms at the House is vainly seeking to serve a subpoena on him, as he resists the executive troops.

The Board of Aldermen did a very sensible thing last evening in discontinuing secret investigations.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

APPLETON'S NEW AMERICAN CYCLOPÆDIA. The Fifteenth Volume and next to the last of the series, of this great American work has just been issued, and is in all respects worthy of its predecessors. It embraces over Eleven hundred different subjects, many of them new, and covers the alphabetical field from "Somar" to "Thelope." It has four two-page colored maps and the text is profusely illustrated by finely executed wood engravings prepared expressly for this work. As in the preceding volumes the treatment of special subjects has been assigned to the most eminent and accomplished specialists on either side of the Atlantic, and the articles are authoritative on the subjects dealt with. The "Language and Literature of Sweden" is contributed by Prof. William Dwight Whitney, of Cornell University, "Syriac Language and Literature," by Prof. Whitney, of Yale; "Language and Literature of Siam," by Prof. G. A. F. Van Rhyn; "Species," Prof Huxley, "Astronomical Subjects," Prof. R. A. Proctor and S. P. Langley; "Tide," Prof. Hilgard, of the United States Coast Survey. Prof. Henry gives a very complete account of the Smithsonian Institute, with which he has been connected for thirty years. In short there appears to be a remarkable array of eminent scholastic names represented in the present number. The article on "Slavery" covers fourteen pages and is very exhaustive and interesting in its treatment. "Silver" receives a ten page history and is discussed from the time of the earliest known mining operations to the present day and the recent discoveries at Newburyport. Epes Sargent gives a very full, candid and interesting exposition of the doctrine of "Spiritualism" and, among other topics elaborately treated with numerous illustrations are "Steam," "Steam Engine," "Steam Boiler," "Steam Carriage," "Steam Navigation," "Steel," "Silk," "Sugar," "Spain," "Spanish Literature," "Spanish Wines," "Telegraph," "Telescope," "Tin," and many other subjects. Robert Carter furnishes biographies of Charles Sumner, Thaddeus Stevens, Joseph Story and Zachary Taylor. The biography of Herbert Spencer is given by Prof. Youmans, and Bayard Taylor and E. C. Stedman write the biographies of each other, the latter adding also a sketch of Richard Henry Stoddard. Among the biographies of other living persons are included Prof. Silliman, Dr. Sims, Skeat, the physiologist, the actor Sothern, Rev. Dr. Spragne, Spurgeon, E. G. Squier, Dean Stanley, Henry M. Stanley, A. H. Stephens, A. T. Stewart, Dr. Sillis, of Philadelphia, Rev. Dr. Storrs, Story, the sculptor, Sybel, the German historian, Taine, Talbot, T. DeWitt Talmage, Rev. H. P. Tappan, Baron Tauchnitz, Tom Taylor, Thiers, Thomas, the French composer, Tenniel, Thompson, Thorubury, Theodore, Tilton, Thiers, Toombs, the Trollopes, and many others. The progress of this splendid work through the press has been watched with the utmost interest throughout the literary world, and its completion will enable its enterprising publishers to present a Centennial trophy of which their countrymen may well be proud. The Sergeant-at-Arms will take the order of the House as to whether he shall produce Kilpatrick before the Judge.

THE EMMA MINE.

Testimony as to Lyon's Character not to be Admitted.

WASHINGTON, April 11. Mr. Swann, chairman of the Committee on Foreign Affairs, announced that they had decided not to admit the testimony with reference to Lyon's character for truth and veracity. At the same time they wished to do all they could to give Safarick ample opportunity for vindication.

More About Lyon's Character.

Orlando Hollister, late Collector of Internal Revenue in Utah, testified that Lyon and Judge McKean would look at his law cases relative to the Emma mine, as Lyon did, it would be worth $100,000 to the Judge. On another occasion Lyon said that the Judge could obtain $120 interest. Lyon must therefore have considered the mine worth $12,000,000. Witness did not mention this matter to McKean at the time. He felt indignant that the proposition should have been made. Subsequently when he found Lyon making an effort to have McKean removed on the ground that he was corrupt, he told McKean of Lyon's suggestion. Lyon at that time had employed Senator Stewart as his attorney and was using him to effect McKean's removal. Representations were made to the President for that purpose. Friends of Judge McKean sent Gov. Woods to see the President, and the desired removal was not effected. It having been shown that the charge against the Judge was false. His removal about a year ago had nothing to do with the Emma mine. Lieut. Colbath, mining expert, gave his opinion that the Emma mine was very valuable. This statement he made from actual observations, the last in the winter of 1872 and 1873. It was reported in Utah that the Bay City Tunnel Co. has since struck the true vein and he believed this to be true.

AN ATTACK UPON MR. BLAINE.

A story trumped up by the Indiana Democratic organs—A very sensational effort.

CINCINNATI, April 11. The following appears as a double-headed editorial in the Indianapolis Sentinel of this morning:

J. C. Harrison, a prominent banker of this city, has in possession a secret the exposure of which will forever blast the prospects of a certain candidate for the Presidency. It is this. An entry appears in the minutes of the Executive Committee of the Board of Directors of the Union Pacific R. R. Co. of Dec. 16, 1871, showing that 301,000 of the Company's money found its way into the hands of some person who has to get it. At a meeting of the Board of Directors in 1872, Mr. Harrison, who has been a member of this Board for a number of years, through the influence of Senator Morton introduced a resolution calling for a committee to investigate and report who received the large sum of money and all other circumstances attending its disbursement. No sooner had this been done than Mr. Rollins, the Secretary of the Board, quietly went to Mr. Harrison and said that if he would withdraw that resolution, an investigation will involve Mr. Blaine and defeat his election. He got the money. The resolution was withdrawn. There are few men in the country who are known to Mr. Wilson of Iowa, who was present at the time the resolution was introduced and withdrawn, as a member of the Board of Directors. It is proper to say that a lot of worthless Arkansas R. R. bonds were Government as collateral security for this money. Nobody will believe a word of the above unless it be the appearance of the parties concerned. Mr. Harrison has been asked for a statement of the facts but declines to say more than it brought before a Congressional committee he will testify. He says he was shot at without cause or provocation.

Emphatic, Specific and Conclusive Contradiction—The Sensation Spoiled by Documentary Evidence.

WASHINGTON, April 11. The story of the Indianapolis Sentinel of yesterday has been in circulation in some form in private political circles. Mr. Blaine was made acquainted with it and promptly denied it, stating that it is entirely without foundation. The story was received in Republican circles with a laugh. A draft was paid for Mr. Blaine's benefit by Morton, Bliss & Co., New York, and was now has been taken up and paid by Mr. H. Rollins, Treasurer of the Union Pacific Railroad Co. In taking measures recently to contradict it, Mr. Blaine received the following letters:

NEW YORK, April 6, 1876.

Hon. J. G. Blaine, Washington:

DEAR SIR—In answer to your inquiry we beg to say that no draft, order or check on our house or any house in which you were known or supposed to have any interest of any kind, direct or indirect.

Very respectfully your obedient servants,

MORTON, BLISS & CO.

Conclusive denial by the Treasurer of the Company.

Also the following:

OFFICE OF THE UNION PACIFIC R. R. CO.,
BOSTON, MASS., March 31.

HON. J. G. BLAINE, Washington, D. C.

DEAR SIR—In response to your inquiry I have leave to state that I have been Treasurer of the Union Pacific R. R. Co. April 8th, 1871, and have never seen or heard of such drafts made as you state, nor do I believe such drafts were made during my term of office. I am sure that no money has been paid in any way or to any person by the Company in which you were interested or by any name whatever.

I make this statement in justice to the Company to you and to myself.

Very respectfully,

E. H. ROLLINS.

The Story repudiated at Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 11. The Journal echoes the morning's editorial sentiments and states the report published in the Sentinel today implicating ex-Speaker Blaine in illegal entries in connection with the Union Pacific R. R. Bond.

PLYMOUTH CHURCH.

The Times will publish to-morrow the call for evidence issued by the Beecher scandal issued by the Committee appointed by the New York and Brooklyn Association of Congregational Ministers. Messrs. MARYLAND

Wholesale Acquittal of Persons Indicted under the Enforcement Act.

BALTIMORE, April 11. In the U. S. Circuit Court yesterday, Judge Giles sustained the demurrer in all of the election cases under the Enforcement Act, and ordered the acquittal of the defendants. The demurrer was on the ground that the Enforcement Act was neither appropriate nor constitutional legislation under the Constitution and its amendments. Judge Giles sustained the demurrers to prosecutions of the election of the Supreme Court of the United States in the recently decided cases of Hiram Reese and Mathew Foster. Fifty-six persons were indicted by the Grand Jury in the United States Circuit Court for violation of the Enforcement Act at the State election in November last, and all were acquitted.

THE WINSLOW CASE.

A Note from Secretary Fish Touching the Question of Extradition.

NEW YORK, April 11. It is stated that Secretary Fish has sent to Mr. Hoffman, charge d'Affaires at London, an official note informing him that the United States cannot under any circumstances take cognizance of the act of the British Parliament of 1870, touching extradition treaties, and peremptorily refusing to give any assurances whatever that Winslow, the Boston forger, shall not be tried for any crimes except for which extradition is asked. The indictments for which extradition is asked are seven in number. By the Ashburton treaty, which is quoted, the United States are bound to surrender fugitives charged with forgery, or the uttering of forged paper, when such forgery or uttering is declared to be a crime by the laws of both countries. Mr. Fish replied that his last note on the subject, a copy of which he showed to Mr. Hoffman, had not yet reached London, and he was simply waiting to hear of its arrival before making its contents public in this country.

The following is an extract from a letter recently received by one of our citizens from his son, 14 years of age, now traveling in the South. It is an account of a trip up the Ocklawaha river:

We left Jacksonville on the steamer "Okalumkee," (I think that is the way to spell it). It is a little bit of a boat, made for the crooked, narrow river. Starting at 6½ P. M., we woke up in Palatka, Tuesday morning, in the worst rain-storm I ever saw. However, it cleared off bright and pleasant at 12 and we went onward. The St. John's River is from two to five miles wide, and rather uninteresting. At 5 the boat steamed into the mouth of the Ocklawaha," at that place 25 feet wide. This river is wonderfully beautiful, being very narrow and winding at each corner (there are no bends in the river). The boat would "hook" on one side or the other, or both, the branches of the trees sweeping along the sides of the boat, breaking windows and shutters, sometimes knocking people down, smashing umbrellas, &c.

At night, on the pilot-house roof, a great fire of pine knots is lighted, to show the way to steer. About 9 P. M. we saw a light through the trees, apparently half a dozen rods off, but really a mile and a half in a straight line, and eight or nine miles by the stream. In half an hour, we ran upon the bank among the trees, allowing the other boat to come swinging down with the current at a rapid rate, her fire lighting up the woods and water with a weird and enchantingly beautiful effect. Then the steamers saluted, the whistles being the only sound in the vast wilderness of palms and alligators. The down boat was the "Tuskawilla," bound for Palatka. The vegetation had become more tropical, palms and cypresses being abundant. Beautiful birds, the limpkin, water-turkey, king-fisher, curlow, eagle, white and blue herons, cranes, and many others of brilliant plumage, flew in all directions; alligators, beautiful turtles, eat-fish, gar-fish (which resemble knife-blades), swam in the clear river. The cypress trees have beautiful foliage, which we picked from the trees without rising from our seats; air plants and beautiful moss hanging on the tree-trunks, green palm-leaf fans six or eight feet across, growing everywhere; orchases and century-plants growing wild in the forest, everything so beautiful that I cannot in any way describe it so as to give you an idea of it.

At 12 30 Wednesday we came into the month of "Silver Spring Run," the water of the "Ocklawaha," which seemed clear before was overshadowed by that of the Run, the two streams flowing side by side for some distance, without mingling. One boat unpaid into the Run which is from 25 to 100 feet deep. The water is so clear that the bottom can be seen anywhere. At Silver Spring the river comes to an sudden stop in a pool several acres in extent. At five Cent Hole," 50 feet deep, you can see a half dime flutter to the bottom and glitter on the sand, (provided you have the silver and drop it in.) At 3 P.M. we came to the "Cypress Gate," formed by two cypresses, 100 feet high, at the narrow point on the river, the boat scraping both trees going through.

There have been with us on the trip Mrs. Moody, wife of the great revivalist, and Mrs. Goddard of Portland, both very entertaining ladies.

HOME FOR AGED WOMEN.

Annual Meeting.

At the annual meeting of the Home for Aged Women, held yesterday afternoon at City Hall, the following list of officers for the ensuing year were elected:

President, Joseph S. Wheelwright; Vice-Presidents, Mrs. James McLaughlin and Mrs. John Mason; Treasurer, Isaac S. Whitman; Secretary, Mary F. Prentiss.

Board of Managers—Ladies: Mrs. Walter Brown, Mrs. Geo. W. Pickering, Mrs. Charles Hayward, Mrs. Albert Holton, Mrs. Arad Thompson, Mrs. Geo. W. Merrill, Mrs. Wm. H. Bishop, Mrs. F. M. Sabine, Mrs. S. P. Strickland, Mrs. Wm. Patch, Mrs. J. Greenleaf Clark, Mrs. John Wyman, Mrs. E. C. Hincks, Mrs. E. P. Baldwin, Miss Eliza W. Eaton, Miss J. S. Patton, Mrs. Geo. W. Holden, Mrs. Benj. Plummer, Mrs. S. F. Horsey, Mrs. L. S. Whitman.

Gentlemen—F. M. Sabine, E. C. Hincks, J. Milton Daggett, Charles Hayward, E. H. Fogg.

The donations for the past year amount to $2,390.27. This includes the bequest of the late Samuel Larrabee, Esq. The Treasurer's report shows that the receipts have been $28,044.47. The disbursements amount to $28,126.23, leaving a balance in the treasury of $318.14. The expenses of the year have been $1,293.00. The city now holds in trust for the Home $95,000, and they have $2,000 in bonds, of which about $8000 stands to the credit of the "Building Fund."

The Board of Managers also submitted their report. The Corporation was organized four years ago, and the Home has been in practical operation for two years. The present number of inmates is nine. Two of this number are entirely blind, and two deaf. All express satisfaction with the management of the Home, and gratitude for the provision made for their comfort. The Board speak of the subject of a house as one of paramount importance. Complaint is sometimes made of the one now occupied. It is too far off, there is no yard and shed room, and it is a north tenement. What is needed is a new building, but that is out of the question at present, as the condition of the funds forbid. The accumulation of a building fund is earnestly desired. The statement made in the report last year that the bequest of Geo. S. F. Hersey, of $5,000 would become due in 1900 is found to be a mistake. By its will it falls due in 1890 ten years earlier than at first reported.

City Affairs.

The City Council met last evening according to adjournment, and in the Board of Aldermen the following business was transacted.

A large number of petitions for repairs on roads, sidewalks, etc., were referred to the proper committees. The communication of the Street Commissioner in relation to extension of City Stables was referred to Committee on City Property.

Alderman Wyman then introduced the following order

Ordered, That the committee to whom was referred the copies of contracts, plans and accounts, presented by the Water Board, be hereby directed to invite, by giving public notice to those persons who have made, or who wish to make any charges as to the management or conduct of the Water Board, to meet the committee when in session, and they, the committee, shall summon such persons to testify before the committee as the Water Board may require. It was moved to amend the above by adding the following clause, viz: "and that the Mayor be and is hereby authorized and directed to draw his order for the payment of a sum not exceeding $100, to pay expense of such witnesses as may be summoned, and also to employ a stenographer if so deemed necessary."

This order elicited quite a lengthy discussion on its passage. The members of the Water Board were present and spoke in relation to the investigation. Mr. Stetson demanded, in justice to them and their family, that Foster and character to have an open investigation, so that any person accused in any way should have opportunity to meet and answer all charges.

Messrs. Wakefield and Ricker, of the committee, stated that they had not considered this an investigation in the common sense and usage of the term, but merely an examination to which the Board of Commissioners and any other directly interested persons were to have free access, but thought best for the interests of the Board and the public not to make a great spectacle and extended investigation at a sudden stop in a pond several acres in extent. At five Cent Hole," 50 feet deep, you can see a half dime flutter to the bottom and glitter on the sand, (provided you have the silver and drop it in.) At 3 P.M. we came to the "Cypress Gate," formed by two cypresses, 100 feet high, at the narrow point on the river, the boat scraping both trees going through.

There have been with us on the trip Mrs. Moody, wife of the great revivalist, and Mrs. Goddard of Portland, both very entertaining ladies.

Mr. Stetson said that as to the time and money involved, if any understood that an investigation was in progress, and the only question was whether it should be a secret, it was for an open inquiry. He was ready to assume the whole expense if any charge impeaching the integrity of the Board should be proved. His interest in the matter was that of a citizen, as he had accepted the position solely for the purpose of serving his fellow-citizens in an important enterprise. He wanted the full and examination and wished for the privilege of hearing and replying to any evidence taken concerning the management of the Board. Fine he thought was but the simplest demand of justice.

Alderman White seconded the amendment and advocated the passage of the order, which was amended, finally passed.

Report of the Committee on salaries of subordinate officers accepted and a resolve fixing the amounts and rates of the same, submitted as follows: City Clerk, per annum, $700; Clerk of the Common Council, $125; City Physician, $300; School Committee (each) $75; School Agent, $900; Overseers of the Poor (each) $175; City Marshal, $800; Truancy Committee, $200; Policemen (each) $650; Street Commissioner, $900; City Solicitor, $750; Assistant Engineers (each) $100; Health Officer, $100; Hacker Master, $200; City Treasurer, $900; Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, $100; City Engineer and Superintendent of Sewers, (to include pay of assistants and horse hire) $1000; Collector of Taxes three-fourths of one per cent. on the amount of money actually collected for taxes paid into the City Treasury; Assessors per day each, while employed, $4; Assistant Assessors each per day while employed, $2 50; Street Engineers per day each, $3; City Auditor, $5.

The order in relation to reorganization of Eagle 3 and Union Hose Co., amended by reducing Eagle 5 to 15 men, and Union Hose to 25 men, and as amended, passed.

Order for the appointment of two additional Policemen, passed. Report of Committee on Fire Department on Babcock Fire Extinguisher, laid on the table until the next meeting.

The two Boards then met in convention for the election of subordinate City Officers as yet not chosen, and with the following result:

LETTER FROM REV. JOHN MCMURRAY.

JAMES I. FELLOWS, Esq.

Dear Sir—I have recently heard from an invalid of the great benefit derived from your Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, and having in many other instances witnessed the most beneficial results from its use, I cannot but regard it a discovery as a matter of devout thankfulness to a benefit Providence.

I have used it considerably myself, and at intervals during several years past, given it to some members of my family.

I have also recommended it to others, and invariably found it to be of essential benefit in those complaints for which it is especially recommended.

In bronchial and other affections of a lung character it affords relief, in arresting the frequent consumption, and in lessening the distressing symptoms of this disease in its hopeless stages, as well as in cases of nervous debility, in giving tone to the system, it is undoubtedly a valuable remedy. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

JOHN MCMURRAY, Methodist Minister.

DR. SCHENCK'S STANDARD REMEDIES. The standard remedies for all the diseases of the lungs are SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SCHENCK'S SEA WEED TONIC, and SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS, and all taken before the lungs are destroyed a speedy cure is effected.

To these Cures, medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary diseases.

The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, induces throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm of matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To enable the Pulmonic Syrup to do this, Schenck's Mandrake Pills must be used to clear the stomach and liver. Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic must be used to clear the stomach and liver, removing all obstructions, relax the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved.

Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, the nature of which is compounded, mixes with the food and prevents souring. It assists the digestion by toning up the stomach to a healthy condition, so that the food and the Pulmonic Syrup will make good blood, then the lungs heal, and the patient will surely get well if care is taken to prevent fresh cold.

All who wish to consult Dr. Schenck, either personally or by letter, can do so at his principal office, corner of SIXTH and ARCH STS., Philadelphia, every Monday. Schenck's medicines are sold by all druggists throughout the country. eod2w mar1
